I admit it. I'm lucky. Playing these games is part of my job. And the variety keeps me on my toes! A lot of people know Epyx for our multiple-event games. But we offer more — much more. We have simulation games like Sub Battle Simulator. Adventures like The Legend of Blacksilver. Can't-put-it-down arcade games like Tower Toppler. Even creativity software like Print Magic. See for yourself. Browse through these pages. And find out how much fun you can have when you discover the other side of Epyx.

Hope there isn't a shark alert, dude. Or you're chum.

Yo — 15 seconds left. You're ripping backside on a double overhead California pipeline. You've had an epic session — now it's time to go for it. What are you gonna do? A 360? Awsome. Got the nads to try another? WASTED!

Better luck next time, dude.

Had enough thrashing? Then grab your skateboard and jam to the half pipe for some heavy skateboard competition. Turn a berm on a BMX bike and throw a wall of dirt. Legs getting lame? Too bad, jack. You've still got the roller skating, foot bag, and SpinJammer® competitions to go.

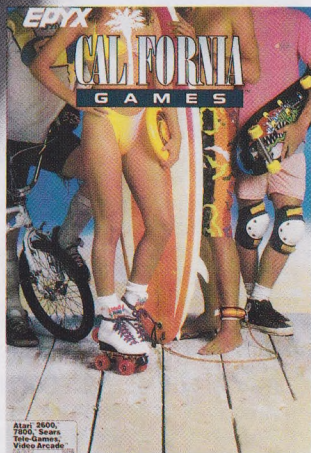

Play these classic California games alone, or with up to eight friends. And give it everything you've got. You're playing for a big-name sponsor who expects you to win. Prizes aren't awarded to wimps or wannabes. Awsome color graphics and cool beach tunes put you in the California limelight.

So get air. Be aggro. Smack off the lip.

And start working on your tan.

You're in a mind-warping freefall, 90 meters above the white cement some people call snow. Could be the ski jump of a lifetime. But you've gotta time your landing down to the micro-second to keep your score (and your neck) intact. WHOAA... YEA! A 9.7!

Looks like you may bring home the Gold — this time. But to sweep the Olympics, you'll need titanium strength and superhero endurance.

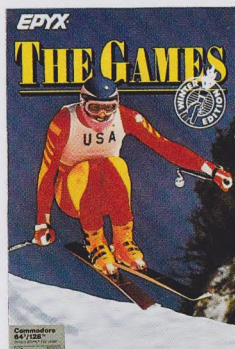

Once the colorful opening ceremonies are over, you face seven Olympic challenges that'll make you sweat icicles. Try cruising the luge at 95 mph with only a fiberglass board and some razor-sharp blades between you and a rock-hard chute of ice. Then slice through ice in the oval-track speed skating event. Have anything left? Check out downhill skiing, the slalom, cross-country skiing, and figure skating.

Radical camera angles capture your performance with a realism that'll make you crazy. Up to eight can play at once. Choose a country — and make it proud.

Cut down on red meat. Carbo load. And start pumping iron.

Push yourself to the max. And bring home the Gold!

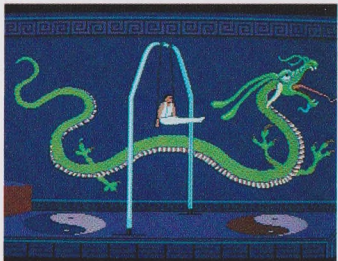

Inches away, last year's Tour de France champion Pierre Lequick is turning up the juice at the Velodrome Sprint Cycling Event. Your legs feel like mashed potatoes and you are totally out of breath. Will you speed ahead to a power finish? Or crash, flame and burn? Sweet. You made it. This time. But don't get cocky. The competition is hot.

You're a mega-athlete with laser-quick reflexes and raw Herculean strength — but the Gold is still a long shot. Because you face the world's greatest athletes in eight nerve-wracking events. Velodrome sprint cycling, hurdles, pole vault, hammer-throw, uneven parallel bars, rings, archery and diving.

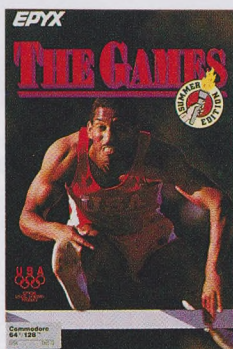

Compete against the computer. Then when your moves are hot, invite a few friends over and see if you can win the Gold. First-person views, totally rad camera angles, Diamond Vision®, 3-D scrolling, and lifelike sound create competition so real it'll make your palms sweat.

Your team is down by 6 with 45 seconds left in the game. Hike! You fake left, then throw a bomb to Vic. Complete! Vic sprints, dodging tackles, tin cans and abandoned cars. He's at the 30... the 20... Watch out for that oil slick!... the 10... Touchdown! Your team won the Oak Street playoffs with a measly 3 seconds to spare. This is Street Sports. You play right in the middle of a city street or construction site. Hand-pick your 3-man team from the neighborhood hot shots (each one has his or her own arsenal of special moves) and control the player who has the ball. Pit your skills against the computer or a friend. Hone your street smarts for this one. Otherwise, your score isn't the only thing that'll be in the gutter. Band-aids not included.

The maggot-infested monster Fetid Wheeze has you where it hurts. And the twisted, mind-boggling labyrinth is so dark you can't even see the ugly slob. But you can smell him. Oh, boy, can you smell him. To get out of this one, you'll need more than your sword and shoddy leather armor. Quick. Check your inventory. Any sacred objects that might pacify the stinking wretch? Any magic? Or weapons? Let's hope so. . .

You're on an epic quest, in the tradition of Temple of Apshai. If you succeed, you'll take the cake (not to mention the nubile young princess.) But between you and the spoils of victory lie 40 levels of dark dungeons, 16 menacing towns, and a diabolical 22-level labyrinth.

To survive the poison darts, rotting parasites, and other underhanded traps, you'll need the strategic brilliance of a five-star general. And the street smarts of an undercover cop.

The mind-warping 3-D graphics, first-person views and sound effects will hold you captive in this adventure for days. Maybe weeks.

Good luck. You'll need it. You also might need the hint book.

It might be the ugly mug of a world-feared drug overlord — or one of 10 other slime balls from the dreaded crime empire known as D.O.A. Your job is to get them. Part detective, part road warrior, part tough guy... and all cunning. Watch out for crazed punks and hit men as you speed down the freeway. Then prowl through decaying buildings to find your quarry. You've got a high-powered criminal radar locator, an .88 magnum pistol to stop 'em cold, and a net gun to bag 'em up. And you'll need them all as you brave hurled axes, vicious rats, whips, bombs, brute force — and the kind of people who want to rearrange your face and call it art. Expect attacks as you make tracks. Good thing the V-Max can rev to speeds over 150 mph and packs a nasty arsenal of machine guns and bombs. Eleven levels of detective skill for you to master.

A goof-ball,
pasta game.

Mamma mia... itsa wild. Itsa wacky. Itsa Sports-a-Roni. Eight of the slipperiest sports ever attempted. Played in sun-drenched Italy. Start with the pole climb. (It's greased with olive oil.) Then the sack race, the boot toss, river jump, gondola pillow fight, and more. Warm up that joystick. You'll need it when you're roaming ruins — on a pogo.

TOWER TOPPLER

"This thing is goofy, pointless, and old fashioned, but it is as addictive as the devil."

— Computer Gaming World

Almost outa time. Almost outa time. But close... just one more ledge to the top... AAUUGGGG!!! A bouncing eyeball just knocked you down to the toxic sea below. Time to say goodnight. Or — try just one more time. You gotta climb eight mysterious, rotating towers — and topple them back into the murky depths of the ocean floor. As you twist and wiggle your way up each of these colossal columns, they turn with you. Which is a good thing... because you gotta look sharp to survive obstacles like indestructible mutant molecules. Crushing boulders. And ledges that disintegrate the instant you set foot on them. And you're stuck with a measly snowball gun for a weapon. Tasty graphics. Great sound. You'll play for hours... and hours... and hours...

Create banners, cards, flyers in minutes — just like magic!

“After using Print Magic I could never go back to Print Shop to do my posters, cards or banners. I can put what I want, where I want... from the WYSIWYG screens down to its easy to use commands. There is nothing about this program that I don't like.”

Discover how creative you really can be! Unlike other graphics programs, Print Magic doesn't limit your personal creativity — it sets it free. Use words and pictures in virtually any combination. Put your graphics, words and borders anywhere on the pages. Then flip them. Invert them. Or completely resize them. Pick your pictures and your typefaces. Then change them. Play with them. The result? Truly inspired cards, flyers, certificates, stationery and banners. Draw from Print Magic's huge image bank of extremely detailed art. (A far cry from the crudely rendered doodles of other graphics programs). You can even take an image and modify it with the complete drawing toolbox. (24 paint brushes, five pens, a variety of patterns are just the beginning). Or, import art from many popular paint and graphics programs. Whatever you decide to create, only one thing is for sure. You won't have to struggle. Print Magic makes creativity as easy as pie. Comes with a free “Holiday Graphics Disk,” a $19.95 value.

Create your own Mona Lisa. Then watch as she smiles.

Make your very own Saturday morning cartoons! Or ads with impact. Animated business presentations that capture attention. Powerful instructional videos. Whatever cartoons or animation your heart desires! Being an art director — and a film director — is easier than you think. With the first affordable program that combines paint and animation features.

Start with Art Director to create eye-stopping images — from cartoon characters to true works of art. Choose a palette of 16 colors. Draw using a spray can or one of 40 pencil nibs. Or paint freehand, symmetrically, geometrically. Flip, halve, double or rotate your paintbrush. Cut a graphic of any shape and use it as a paintbrush or fill pattern. Zoom in with eight levels of magnification. Bend your picture into a cylinder. Stretch it, rotate it, or outline it...rescale, distort, and shade

it. Add depth by taking it 3-D. And import graphics from these popular paint programs: DeluxePaint II, Paintworks Plus, Paintworks Gold, Neochrome, and Degas Elite.

Once your masterpiece is picture perfect, switch to Film Director to animate it. Create cartoons using state-of-the-art cel animation. Without tedious redrawing from scratch — just like the pros. Get started immediately with a wealth of art and animation sequences already included. Two canvases allow you to swap screens with a click. Scrape one screen to reveal the other, or merge the two into one. Time-saving animation shortcuts generate movement automatically. You can even record your work on video tape, to share with friends. Complete instructions included.

“If it were any more realistic, you’d need a batting helmet.”

Gary Carter,
All Star Catcher,

Real stats. Real action. Real hall-of-famers, too!

It's the bottom of the ninth. Stepping up to bat is — Jose Canseco??? Yes, just another sunny day at the ball park. Only this time, you manage a big-league team. Choose from twenty-six 1987 teams with stars like Ozzie Smith, Dave Winfield, and George Brett. Or handpick your team from 150 baseball legends like Ruth and Mays. All the stats you want — over six separate hitter/fielder ratings. Unique batting control. Multiple screens keep you right in the middle of the action. Rather kick back? Watch the computer slug out a pure stat game — as you watch from the catcher's spot.
